NSW Government support for the Culture in Construction Taskforce (CICT)

Infrastructure NSW is proud to be a founding partner and key funding partner in this important initiative to improve health, culture and wellbeing in the construction industry.

The NSW Government is committed to working with the construction industry to deliver the multi-billion dollar infrastructure pipeline in a safe and sustainable way.

Achieving culture change in the construction sector is a key objective of the NSW Government Women in Construction Program. The Culture in Construction Taskforce is an important complementary effort to this Program that will contribute to improved diversity in the construction sector.

We look forward to our continued partnership with the Culture in Construction Taskforce to help make the construction industry a more diverse, inclusive and safe workplace.

Yours sincerely
